

Bullock Bend Mitigation Bank Opening Ceremony

During the event, local, state, and Federal partners were recognized and a farm berm was breached in anticipation of winter flows of the Sacramento River to fill the site. The Central Valley Flood Protection Board was honored to take part in a project that promotes collaboration from the environmental community, in conjunction with land owners and agricultural operators, to provide benefits to both ecosystem function and the flood control system

