

FLOODPLAIN MANAGEMENT ASSOCIATION
2016 FMA ANNUAL CONFERENCE
September 6-9, 2016

This conference, held at The Hyatt Regency Hotel in downtown Sacramento “is the premier venue for floodplain management professionals interested in reducing flood risk and creating sustainable floodplains. The Floodplain Management Association (FMA) serves as an unbiased forum for legislature, government, industry and science to advance best practices, technologies, policies, regulations and legal strategies, with a focus on California, Nevada and Hawaii.

FMA presents an ongoing series of symposiums, conferences, and workshops addressing emerging issues of the day, such as: floodplain modeling and mapping; land use strategies; local, state and federal policies, laws and regulations to reduce flood risk; structural and non-structural flood control system design and operation; floodplain restoration and natural resource management; flood hazard mitigation, preparedness and emergency response; flood warning and forecasting; public education, outreach and involvement; and similar topics.”

Special Events this year include:

- California Extreme Precipitation Symposium
- Sacramento Weir 100th birthday celebration and tour
- Walking Tour of Old Sacramento and its flood history
- Folsom Dam Tours
